Although the weather was overcast for our July outing, everyone was enthusiastic about travelling on the Sydney Metro from Central to Castle Hill and the visit to Castle Towers, one of the largest shopping venues in Australia. It was very interesting to travel on a driverless train under Sydney Harbour.

On Friday, 15th August, we will explore The Rocks district of Sydney, visiting The Rocks Discovery Museum and the ATTY Gallery, passing Susannah Place, the Garrison Church, Observatory Hill and other historic places. There are many outlets for coffee and lunch on our walk around the area.

Leaving Leumeah Station at 9.14am (Macarthur 9.08am), we will alight at Circular Quay for our tour.

You are most welcome to come along for another enjoyable day out with friends.
